LOCAL NEWS.

—The Council met last Wednesday evening.

—Miss Rose Gifford has added a fine line of books to her stock of stationery.

—The next meeting of the Council will be in the "Happy New Year," the 5th prox.

—Captain Large has his subscription book agency located for the time being at Chan Richardson's.

—John H. Camp, of St. Paul is expected to visit Ashtabula friends for a week or so, at the house of W. E. Scoville.

—As we go to press, the alighting has gradually melted away, and left a hard smooth icy road, affording the best wheeling imaginable.

—Three in arrears to the TELEGRAPH office, will do us a favor by calling before the close of the year and squaring up and renewing subscriptions for the new year.

—Judge Taylor's credentials were handed in on Monday last, and his objections raised and met by Maj. McKinley and others, sworn in and the matter referred to the Committee on Elections.

—A communication for the Temperance column, was received from Richmond after the usual quantum had been put in type from Saybrook. The Richmond article will therefore be used next week.

—Mr. George Russell has already stored 700 tons of ice, and he has capacity for 800 tons more. It is seven inches thick and he says the quality was never better, and the price next summer will be 35 cents per hundred.

—John Croft puts forth his large A. L. in the present paper. His goods are of the most noble description. In neck wear, and fancy Handkerchiefs—both silk and linen—the elegance and variety of his stock is not surpassed.

—The contributions of "Scientific Miscellany," will be found regularly in our columns, in condensed form. They will, we think, be found a feature of interest, as everything now in the scientific world will be noticed and laid before our readers.

—A savage dog belonging to Mr. R. S. Aughenbaugh, attacked a little son of Mr. Frank Means last Wednesday afternoon, throwing the child down and biting him about the face and head. Frank has his galling gun loaded and is looking for that dog.

—Mr. Ed. Capendole, the youngest child of Mr. John Capendole, died at the home of his father on Wednesday morning last of consumption. He was a young man of excellent character, and his large circle of friends deeply sympathize with his bereaved parents.

—The private party of Protection Company that takes place Tuesday evening the 28th inst., promises to be the grandest affair of the kind ever gotten up in Ashtabula. The gentlemanly members of this company are sparing neither time nor expense in perfecting the arrangements, and all who receive invitations should not fail to be present. The invitations are elegant specimens of the engraver's skill, and were ordered from the TELEGRAPH office.

—The dedication of the new Jefferson town hall is to take place on Tuesday evening next, upon which occasion a grand vocal and instrumental concert is to be given. Mrs. Harmon of Ashtabula, and Mr. A. L. Howard of Kingsville are to assist the home talent.

—The trial of John D. L'Honnelle for shooting at George D. Fargo "with intent to kill or wound" was commenced in the Common Pleas Court last Wednesday morning. Prosecuting Attorney Pettibone for the State is assisted by Messrs. Northway and Fitch, and the defence has Messrs. Lee, Hall and Ruggles. The case will probably come to a close to-day.

—Corporation scales are established in various municipal corporations at the East, which are found to be a public affair for weighing coal, hay, &c., as they furnish a correct and satisfactory means of reliability. Beyond this they are found to be somewhat of a revenue to the corporations having them in use. Our village might perhaps find such an institution of public utility.

—Wm. F. Swift, of the Leader staff, has been taken down with sickness, and left unable to attend to regular duties. A change of climate has been advised, either to Florida or Cuba, and a three months leave of absence has been granted him. Being a young man and a family—wife and one child—upon his hands, his situation is a somewhat irksome one, and calls for kindly solicitation.

—The work of raising the sunken seno Isoco, in Ashtabula Harbor has been temporarily suspended. Harbor Master Field has notified the owner to remove her within a reasonable time, and should the owner fail so to do, the Council will undertake the job. Her cargo of 350 tons of hard chestnut coal is still aboard as a reward to the one who raises her. It is reported the owner has already spent $2000 in his efforts to raise her.

—The weather since the building of the shaft and bolt factory and the pump works, began, has not been favorable, for their progress but the latter institution has been enclosed with slate roof, but the bolt and shaft building, is a more extended one and could not be carried along as rapidly. Men were at work upon the second story, we noticed, in passing last week. A good supply of hickory logs are being brought in, so that when ready for operation, the material will be on hand.

—We regret to hear that Mr. A. G. Snyder talks of the possibility of disposing of his property in town with a view to leaving. Mr. Snyder's works are an important accession to our village, and have in their management, afforded ample proof of business tact and ability. Any step, therefore, toward a change on interruption in their management would be viewed with sincere regret and as a loss to our village industries, and every friend to the prosperity of the place would do anything in his power to avoid such a calamity.

—The epizootic has in a great measure subsided, and we hear but little from coughing horses on the street. Though the disease has been light, it has been very prevalent, and here and there a fatal case. Since the mention of deaths coming to mind in this vicinity, we have to add two others—one of a pair of valuable black carriage horses, in the stable of Frank Gregory, and the other a new purchase, at some $100, in the stable of Cy. Fuller. Our information goes to prove that the disease has had its run. There are cases undoubtedly that will have a lingering recovery from bad treatment.

—The dramatic department of Jefferson Town Hall, is making progress towards completion. The skill of the painting is very creditable, and the amount and variety of the scenery is well calculated to meet the wants of the performers. The stage is of good size, the taste of the finish, construction and seating capacity, beyond anything in this part of the State. Inclusive of the galleries, the seating capacity of the audience room, is 700. Its finish well compares with the external elegance of the building. The pride of our Hub friends for the building will not be compromised by its internal carrying out.

—The Ashtabula friends of Elder Day will not fail to notice his kindly letter to them, in the TELEGRAPH, and to note the pleasant and prosperous surroundings in the midst of which his lot has been cast. His earnest and genial spirit won for him many friends, who regretted his removal from the district where his labors had been so well appreciated, but they will be pleased to know that the watchfulness of a good providence is still over him. As one proud to be numbered among his friends, we shall be happy to hear from him in the way chosen, whenever it shall suit his convenience to take the opportunity to do so. In this way he will be able to reach us all at one effort.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

All members were present at the regular meeting of the Council last Wednesday evening. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

A petition praying for a street light at Camp street crossing of Franklin Division L. S. & M. S. Railway was read and on motion referred to a special committee composed of Haskell, Call, Pfaff and Manning to report at next meeting. The same committee was further instructed to look into the matter of having railroad companies light railroad crossings.

A petition praying the Council to re-appoint John Hussey as a policeman at the L. S. & M. S. depot was read and referred to Police Committee.

The following resolution by Mr. Haskell was adopted:

"Resolved, That the Mayor appoint a special committee, of which the Mayor shall be chairman, to confer with the proper officers of the L. S. & M. S. Railway, for the purpose of doing something so that Lake street crossing will not be obstructed with west bound freight trains."

The Mayor appointed Councilmen Haskell, Manning and Call as such committee.

The Gas Committee was instructed to engage a person to light and care for Harbor street lights, at an expense not exceeding $5 per month.

The Fire and Water Committee was instructed to place a stove cover over the well at corner of Main and Division streets.

The Marshal was instructed to notify parties throwing ashes and rubbish in the streets of a certain ordinance relating to such action, and report at next meeting of the Council.

Messrs. Morrison and Fisk submitted Morton's map of Manchester (now Ashtabula Harbor) for adoption, which was referred to a special committee composed of Councilmen Haskell, Hancock and Seymour with instructions to report at next meeting.

Mr. Seth Belknap and Mr. Thayer of the Harbor were present, and Mr. Belknap as spokesman verbally petitioned the Council to take the necessary steps to drop their property on the east side of the Harbor out of the Corporation, as said land was used only for farm purposes, and that the roads through the same received better care prior to the annexation than since. Upon motion the Mayor appointed Councilmen Hancock, Manning and Haskell as a special committee to meet the petitioners and report to the Council.

An ordinance for the payment of claims amounting to $278.56 was read and adopted upon suspension of rules. Adj.

KINDERGARTEN.—Another institution for Ashtabula, Mrs. B. W. Spalding, of Kingsville, has made a purchase of the Episcopal Parsonage on the corner of Park and Church streets, and proposes to open, on Monday the 3d of January, in the Episcopal chapel, a school of the Kindergarten character, the scholars to range in age from 3 to 9 years. The price of instruction will be 50 cents a week. As Mrs. S. comes to Ashtabula with the intention of making it her permanent home, and embarks in a pursuit much needed in this village, and is with all, we learn, well fitted for the position she is about to take, our citizens will no doubt extend to her a generous welcome and patronage.

The Kindergarten is the only true basis of education. Knowledge is here presented in forms so attractive that all study is considered a recreation rather than a task. Many, indeed, most parents have yet to learn that it is the youngest child that needs the best of training—best of care. We claim the American Kindergarten gives that care, and trains the children in building up character founded upon obedience, truth, justice, honesty, temperance, industry, and all those qualities which are a power for good. In our method of teaching reading, spelling, &c., the children learn more, and learn it far easier, in one month than did many of us in a whole year under the old plan. We aim to make our Kindergarten in very deed the children's paradise.

AROUND THE WORLD IN 108 DAYS.

About a year ago mention was made in the TELEGRAPH, of James L. Smith, Esq., of Ashtabula, then in Colton, Cal., sending a postal card around the world. Mr. Smith showed us the card the other day, and from it we gained the following facts of its long and interesting trip around the world. It was started from Colton, Cal., August 6th, 1879, with a ten cent stamp added to its value. On the face of the card was written:

"Will the kindhearted postmasters and postal clerks please read other side and comply?"

Go little "keerd," across the blue-domed distances,
Which flies beneath you, bound with hands of steel,
Hunt up a ship and sail across the waters,
Then come back home and let's see how you feel.

And tell the postal people kindly send you
To New York to Liverpool and Alexandria.

To India's "coral strand" at Singapore;
And through Japan to Yokohama—la;
Then with the postal man at San Francisco
Be kind enough to send you right straight down.

To J. L. Smith, Colton, California.

The card is stamped at thirteen different postoffices, and was returned to Colton November 22nd, 1879.
